Reading this volume

Preparation and review

Prepared for Volney Douglas with AI assistance in September 2026, from visual reading of the supplied scans. Each scan received an initial reading. Version 1.1 adds local OCR processing of all 193 pages containing the original 1,200 uncertainties, and applies selected image-checked corrections. OCR completion is not a complete new visual check; the item ledger records which passages were individually adjudicated. The page inventory identifies the review level. This edition has not received an independent human transcription check or repository approval. It is offered for scholarly review and correction, and does not replace the source images.

Wording and layout

Original wording, spelling, grammar, abbreviations and recoverable punctuation are retained. No silent expansion or modernization is intended. Handwritten capitalization, punctuation and word division sometimes require judgment. Superscripts are lowered to the baseline. Ordinary line wrapping is reflowed; verse lines, addresses and separate text blocks are distinguished. Underlining and decorative features are not systematically encoded. This is a direct reading transcript, not a facsimile or a fully diplomatic edition.

Uncertainty notation

Double square brackets contain editorial intervention. `[[illegible]]` means writing could not be read; an unspecified gap does not imply a word count. Adjacent unreadable spans may be combined. A stated extent, such as `[[illegible: approximately 3 words]]`, is an estimate. `[[word?]]` gives a tentative reading, including tentative phrases. `[[lost: torn edge]]` records writing missing at a damaged edge; `[[obscured: fold]]` identifies an obstruction. Original single brackets remain as written. No missing wording is supplied solely to produce a fluent sentence.

Corrections and separate blocks

`[[deleted: text]]` records readable canceled text; `[[deleted: illegible]]` records an unread cancellation. `[[inserted: text]]` records a significant insertion in its intended position. `[[margin]]` and `[/margin]]` enclose marginal writing. `[[postmark]]` and `[[postage]]` identify postal text. `[[blank]]`, `[[seal]]` and `[[sketch]]` identify useful non-textual features. A `[[separate block: description]]` marker introduces an independently positioned passage. Handwriting or cancellation may itself be uncertain.

Source order and later descriptions

Entries follow the PDFs' scan order. Where the leaves appear out of sequence, the editorial note suggests a reading order without moving the entry. Later identifying slips are transcribed separately; their names, dates and attributions are not silently substituted for manuscript readings. Duplicate scans retain separate entries. Apparent contradictions are recorded rather than reconciled.

References and corrections

A page ID such as 05-025 means source 05, PDF scan page 25, counting the cover as page 1. A block ID such as 05-025-P02 adds the second transcript paragraph or block. These are editorial locators; they are not manuscript page numbers. Suggested citation: George Douglas Papers annotated transcription, version 1.1, 05-025-P02; corresponding source 05, scan page 25. For a correction, give that locator, the existing wording, a proposed reading, and the image or other evidence supporting it.

Dear Father:

I have been looking for a letter from home; for a long time, not having heard from any of you since I left there in Oct. But as I have not heard I [[illegible]] to write again [[illegible]] I think it rather uncertain [[illegible]] you would hear from me

Lest you might have failed to get any of my late letters, I would say that I have written several times since November, & this must excuse me if such be the case

I much desired a letter from you before making arrangements for the present year, & I waited until New Years day for that purpose. Being then left entirely on my own judgement I concluded to remain here one year longer, & risk the consequences. Dr Kendrick & myself have formed a partnership for the year. I get $\frac{1}{3}$ of the accounts, & am at $\frac{1}{3}$ the expence, pay my board & furnish my own horse

The advantages of this arrangement are, — his experience — a share in a practice which is firmly established — and a division of responsibility in bad cases, which is not the least of things to be considered. The disadvantages are,

Editorial note. Abrasion or fading at the folds interrupts the opening paragraph. The shares are read as one-third; the second is faint.

05-004-P01 — a probability of making more money elsewhere — the greater incentive to study, by being thrown on my own resources — & it may be the loss of a good field of operations by being 1 year later. — Have I done wisely, or not?

We have great opposition here both from [[numbers?]] & prej*[[illegible]]* This latter is, however giving [[illegible]] in the minds of the people; & as for the Doctors, it makes but little difference what they think, say, or do. Dr K's practice has been regularly on the increase, for some time, & will continue to do so. Old Mr Ransom, (whom I take to be a man of strong prejudices) has declared his intention to try Dr K when next he wants a physician. Others, the same. I mention him, as he is known to you

I wrote to Warren, of a Cancer case we have on hand, which was considered doubtful, & is probably so yet, but it is now doing well & we have more hope. It was a great risk, but will be a great triumph, if a cure is effected. — My health is good. I think I can venture to promise you a visit in the Spring, say April. I could come sooner, but the winter winds & sleets are too bad. If you have not written please do so immediately. My love to all

Yours in all affection Henry Douglas

Dear Mother:

The letter from yourself & Susannah, came by last mail, & lest you be somewhat disappointed by my delay in my promised visit, I now drop you a line

I recd a letter from Uncle Sam a short time ago, suggesting the 1st of May, as the most suitable time for me to come up, in consequence of his engagements, at court in April & also Jepie's & Warrens absences, he, thinking it probable that they would not be at home until about that time. As it was of no material difference to me, I wrote him immediately that I would be up the last week in April. & lest the letter should miscarry, I write this. Your letter was nearly 3 weeks on the way & if this makes no better speed, & nothing should hinder, I will be with you soon after you get it. I am pleased that Susannah has consented to come down with me, & hope there will be no disappointment, in any way; but that the step shall prove entirely satisfactory to all concerned. I think you are disposed to praise my humble self entirely too highly in this matter; for I have only done, what seemed to me, a reasonable duty. I feel that I have been blessed beyond my expectations, in whatsoever

05-007-P01 I have laid my hand to, since I left your roof to seek my fortune in the wide world. I know that while memory lasts I shall never forget the day when I parted from Father, in the wide lonely prairie, near the Willow pond, his parting advice, & the loneliness of the subsequent hours in walking to Porters Bluff. Never till then had I felt so isolated; never had I felt what it was to be homeless, houseless, & in effect, friendless, for I was going amongst strangers, & I knew not whither I took everything upon trust; & have not been disappointed. I have been blest with health & plenty; not so abundantly as some, but as much as I had any right to hope for. I repeat then, that I deserve no praise, but if I can render any service to others I am only doing my duty.

You may, then, expect me up about the last of April, (of course I can't say precisely) & I hope to remain with you a week or 10 days, maybe longer. The weather has been very dry with us, for a long time, & crops are suffering greatly for rain. Corn has been badly frostbitten & much of it will be to plant again. I fear the wheat has been ruined, with you. I remain as ever, your affectionate Son,
Henry Douglas.

Dear Father:

After a long lapse of time I now find an opportunity to write you. I have nothing encouraging to write. I have had to pay from 1 to 2 dollars for sheep & have been at a great deal of trouble to find them & expense in collecting my drove. Mr Willis Helm sent $500 by me to get him some sheep & with the 1500 I have bought 750 head & do not know that I will have money enough to get them to Tex. as I only have some 200 left. I bought common sheep in Callaway & Graves Co's Ky purchase lambs at 1 & Ewes at 1.25 per head but could not get enough & so went back to Christian Co & got some 250 head at 1.75 & 2 per head These are finer sheep & I would now prefer that all my funds were invested in such sheep I crossed the Mississippi at the Iron Banks last Sunday & had to pay 8 cts per head ferriage then after driving two days I had to stop on account of the sheep taking a disease from poison or some thing else. Several have died & altogether I have lost near 50 head since I started, mostly however by their dodging in the thickets the first few days

05-010-P01 driving. I learn that every drove of sheep that has passed through here has suffered severely in the same way that mine has. Last year about this time a Mr Long passed through with 1000 & lost 150 to 200. A Mr South, Methodist preacher, with 3 or 400 lost only a few. He passed through about the last of July. A few days ago a drove of 7 or 800 passed from Rutherford Co Tennessee & lost a great many. The people here say that I have escaped better than any of them & they say, further, that after leaving here all the droves did well which I greatly hope is true. I now have my sheep in a large crabgrass pasture free of charge, & will remain till I think it prudent to start which I hope will be in 3 or 4 days. Nearly all are doing finely but probably 50 show a diseased condition. The symptoms are, first a drooping & swelling of the ears, which thicken up the cellular tissue being filled with yellow serum. The sheep becomes dull & stupid & in some cases the head swells — under the jaw the skin will hang in a pouch & I have stuck my knife into several & the yellow serum would flow freely. I know that I have lost 5 since I crossed the river & one more will die, probably. I forget to say that, after the head swells the sheep suffers from an intolerable itching, judging from its actions, & the hair will come off when the swelling goes. I have 2 toll gates

05-011-P01 to pass before I get clear of the swamps & then no more I suppose till I get to Fort Gibson ferry on the Arkansas. I have 4 hands hired at 15 dollars per month each & taking all together I cannot make the drove profitable if I do not lose by it. I have not heard from any of you since I left Texas nor have I heard from Ellen since I left Lincoln County. Taking everything into consideration I cannot feel otherwise than "low down" but win or lose I am bound to go through. My health is still good & if I dont get sick I think I can stand it. Now I have written this I do not know that it would be best to send it, but you had better know the truth than to be in suspense. I suppose I will reach Springfield Mo. in 30 or 40 days & you must write me at that place & also at Fort Gibson, & write to Warren to do the same as I am very anxious to hear from all of you. I have been much disappointed & perplexed by men who engaged with me for the trip, failing to come up at the appointed time & some not coming at all. This required me to hire hands temporarily & higher prices & to pay them off when they quit, which has been a heavy draw on my pocket. I will write again — for the present this is enough. Love to all.

Your affectionate son. H. Douglas

My Dear Sir

It has been about two years since I heard from you in relation to our business — it has been I believe nearly three years. I should be glad to have a letter from you — giving me full accounts of every thing, and I hope you will write to me immediately on the receipt of this.

I have bought lately of Gen. A. Sublett the balance of the Littleton White tract of Land — the purchase embraces about thirty two hundred & fifty acres — You know where it is situated & I want you to see to it. See whether the Taxes are paid, and give me any information you may be able to obtain in relation to it.

I would be obliged to you to write me fully about the Louis Dickson tract of Land on the Trinity River (I believe it is called the Louis Dickson tract) — Gen. A. Sublett owns it & I am thinking about buying it. I believe the Land is at the mouth of the five mile [[deleted: branch?]] [[inserted: creek]]

Write me what the Land is worth & give me any information you may have, or can get, in relation to it.

05-036-P02 My Dear Aunt:—I finished up my morning work pretty well this forenoon, so now I will take time to write to you. I am still better—haven’t had a “break down” since I wrote last.

05-036-P03 I have every room swept nicely—I still have a bed in my sitting-room two rockers, two footstools, nicely covered, the stand-table, Mr. [[Curren?]] made, two tea-baskets on the mantle-piece, my vases, & two advertisement pictures, which makes the room presentable.

05-036-P04 I try to keep the door opening in to the hall closed, so as to have the room ready to receive anyone; for they come, at any and all hours, being as Bruce

One day he came from the P.O. & said “Grandma Chadsey’s house isn’t togeizzer is it Mamma?” “Ours is though” He noticed that her Post Office doesn’t join her dwelling, while our store does—dont you think him quite observant? Mr. Headrick has been down with his back, for two weeks, till he could scarcely move, but is much better now—last week he wasn’t able to help me work, at all, so I did it (a small washing) alone as you know I am better, I sat & rinsed them in a bucket. Used all the rain water, so I didn’t get it done this week. Mrs. [[Scholl?]] started back to Kansas the 19th. Her son & children went with her. She said [[illegible]]

A few nights before I dreamed of Grandma. You know I often have that pleasure I suppose, because I often think & speak of her. Since I began writing Elmo brought me your letter from the Office. Your dresses are indeed lovely—You are carrying out my advice, “Get plenty of nice clothes” better than I expected—I am glad of it, and know you will enjoy wearing them this summer

You ought to see [[him?]] trudging in with kindling—whenever, & wherever he finds it, he picks it up as eagerly as I would & brings it in—Last sunday they were sitting in a window, and along came Mr. [[McKie's?]] cow—Elmo remarked if that cow was married, she would have a calf. 05-040-P01 There is a thought contained in the piece headed “A [[Lyffe?]]” (in Advocate of April 13th) by D. L. which had never entered my mind & which would be profitably impressed on the mind of every mother, & that is that we are “teaching our children what is in our own hearts whether we try or not”. I paused, in my busy life, & asked what am I teaching mine? I have given three mothers the benefit of the thought. I am surprised that [[Curren?]] has another [[boy?]]. Saw in my last paper, the announcement, by Uncle Geo. of the [[Elmwood?]] camp-meeting—How I wish I could attend as of old. Remember me to Bro. Last week Mr. H. went to Los Angeles—Kate [[Larson?]] staid with me, Bruce was sick with cold & fever & derangement of bowels—so we had quite a time—While we were eating supper in came over 20 doz. eggs to be counted, I ran & got the other lamp & told Kate to light

05-047-P01 Bardsdale August 8th. Dearest Aunt:—I have just gotten dinner over. Mr. Headrick has gone to work, Elmo is seated on the table, and Bruce by it with a slate, and talking more. I am as well as usual. Mr. H. helped me wash yesterday. Grandma Humphrey's growth increases, and is so bad she has difficulty in breathing—consequently has consented to have an operation performed; which, I greatly fear she will not undergo. Dr. [[Hinckley?]] is back now and he Drs. Bard and Mott, are to do the work. I saw Dr. H. passing, once since his return. I spoke, told him I was glad to see him back, and expressed lasting gratitude for his kindness. Could hardly keep from saying if he thought half as much of me, as I did of him, he would have called to see us sooner. but of course we can't express ourselves thus freely, to strangers.

05-047-P02 We had our picnic at Mr. Grimes, last saturday, which was quite a success. I prepared a good dinner in case I should get a chance to go; but the hour came for starting, and no opportunity presented itself. How fully I realized that if I was back there, or even you here it would be different. Had I acted on my own feelings, I would have put forth no effort to go; but the children were so anxious to go, they said, if I didn't go down and ask Mr. Wigmore for his cart, they would. I knew they couldn't bring it alone, so I went with them but fortunately for my "brazen face" it had been spoken for, and I found it out before I had to ask. I found Mrs. Pickering hardly able to be out of bed, and still fixing to go off camping, in hopes 'twould enable her to stay a little while longer with her children. So I swept her house, cooked her two jelly cakes, and came on home about noon. Mr. H. took his dinner so the children and I sat down and ate picnic dinner alone. After we had finished, and I had sat down, to read a little, down came Mr. Henry Chadsey in Mrs. [[Curren's?]] surrey, for us. Lillie Chadsey had inquired of several why I wasn't there, and

05-048-P01 the answer of all was of course, "I guess she didn't have any way". She told them there was no reason I shouldn't have a way, when there were so many conveyances there, so she started Henry in a hurry. I was thankful on account of the children especially. They had a large table heavily loaded, with choicest food. Mrs. Grimes took up nearly all her dishes, and every one else took plenty so it was a set table just like you would have at your own home. But just such a mixture of dishes, you never heard of. It took them quite awhile to get them straightened out. They had lemonade and ice-cream. two swings a set of croquet, and a game of baseball. And [[no part?]] of the pleasure was due wholly to Lillie Chadsey. I was amused to observe, as she came down in the afternoon, to see Elmo running her. Imagine him handling (or rather attempting to) over Two hundred pounds. But you know he always rather liked her. That was the 4th, and little [[Beckie's?]] birthday, and what think you, she went to Santa Paula with Mr. [[Reck?]] [[Lehock?]] and married him unbeknowing to her father. The old gentleman is quite wrathly over it. ordered her off the place, when she went back for her clothes, and threatened to disinherit her. It was her 18th birthday. The [[Wilmot?]] [[Hagarts?]] are not all dead yet. Grandma Roberts spent last Sunday night with us. I am always so glad to see her. I forgot to say, I heartily wished for you to dine with us, when we sat down to eat our picnic dinner all alone. Elmo said to me one day “when a girl marries a young man, she takes his name, doesn’t she”, to which I said yes, and he continued how many Headricks will there be then? Bruce was standing by, and put in, I’m going to marry a “dutch girl”. Well I must tell you that I earned $4.50 pitting fruit. A handsome amount for me.

05-048-P02 Expecting an account of the meeting soon, I am as ever,
S. G. H.

05-051-P01 if you ever saw people smile a smile, it was last sunday, when Mr. [[Wigart?]] made this announcement. I had a faint hope of getting the people stirred up to investigating the scripture, last sunday week, when Mr. Pickering, our Supt and the only one in the School, who knows anything about the Bible, suggested, that we older ones get together once a week, and study by subjects—But alas, my hopes have almost departed, as no one seems to like him—I dont know why, unless it is because he knows a little. Last sunday we had a Holiness sermon from [[illegible]]. While upon the field were watching

With the enemy in view

Comrades brave around are lying

Filled with thoughts of home and God

For well they know that on the morrow

Some may sleep beneath the sod

Press me to your heart again

But oh you will not forget me Mother

If I'm numbered with the slain

And the loving ones at home

But I'll never leave our banner

05-064-P01 There in mist my vision failing
As bending o’er the iron railing
Vain regrets my soul assailing
Passed in review a life that little fruitage bore.
All its longing and its yearning
All its fruits to ashes turning
All its fever fiercely burning
Through my frenzied brain, the stormy passions tore

05-064-P02 The years to come all desolated
To the thorn and rockwaste fated
Dull despair to sorrow mated
Spread their pall upon the soul and bid hope [[flee?]] door
Clouds above—the darkness falling
Night’s deep’ning gloom in mist appalling
Future years to conflict calling
Conflict with that Fate which life’s disasters bore

05-064-P03 Yesterday brought its roseate vision
 Today Fate holds us in derision
 Tomorrow in the fields elysian
 We'll dream again the dreams dreamed on life's
 Sunrise shore

 Light and shadow closely linking
 And the soul Nepenthe drinking
 Will resign its burdens on the dark Plutonian [[inserted: shore]]
 When death's shiv'ring chill comes o'er us
 Which our loved ones felt before us
 We may join the blissful Chorus
 Which swells the everlasting anthem
 Where saints their homage pour.

05-066-P01 In answer to the Author of "Georgie."

05-066-P02 I seek not for devoted dears.—
 "Platonic friendship at my years,"
 Most surely will suffice,
 Impassioned hours have long gone by—
 The furtive glance—the pensive sigh—
[[Was as for lovers nice?]].
 Give me a strong and helping hand
 While adverse clouds hang low,
 A friend in danger's hour, who'll stand
 Then onward will I go
 I'll meet cold fate, with heart elate
 And smile at fortune's frown,
 I'll bare my breast, to its rudest blast,
 Altho' I may go down,

05-066-P03 "Beauties newblown" will Nature bring
 With each returning vernal Spring
 And I enjoy these,
 The flowrets on the prairies wide
 The murmuring streams which sweetly glide
 The grand and lofty trees,

Altho' I am an Anchorite
 Absolved from humankind
 Some joys will stop with me o'er night
 And leave a pledge behind,
 That in after years, thro' changeful cares
 They'll call around once more
 And bring with them, some nameless gem
 "From the distant Aiden shore,

05-066-P04 Thus Hope is still the harbinger
 Of many a blissful coming year
 Which fortune may deny.

05-067-P01 But still I'll seize the brighter side,
 The cheerful hours where pleasures glide
 Beneath a sunlit sky,
 Today, I'll take the sweets which come
 Tomorrow, then, likewise,
 And thus I will be sure of some
 From Fortune, as it flies
 But idle thought, with love o'erfraught
 I'm sure is a burlesque
 When sent to one, "whose work is done,"
 And's nothing now to risk.

05-078-P01 Of all the thoughts enclosed in the language of Inspiration [[lost: left edge]] its laws its precepts its promises what is there that conveys more, to our minds and hearts than is expressed in this short sentence? Jesus wept. Let us look a moment at the character of Jesus: who, and what is he? If we accept the truths of the Bible, he is the son of God, The King of the Jews, The bright and morning star! A ruler of the Jews came to Jesus and said, "we know thou art a teacher come from God for no man can do the miracles that thou doest, except God be with him." Look then at the power of this man: by his word water is turned into wine. The blind receive their sight, the lame walk. By His word the tempest is stilled, and He walks the waves of the wild Galilee. By His word the dead are called back to life again. Truly He was the son of God.

05-078-P02 But it is not from the Bible alone that we have testimony in regard to the greatness of this man. Renan in his Life of Christ says "All ages will proclaim that among the sons of men there were none born greater than Jesus." His goodness, [[greatness?]], his omnipotent power, we cannot doubt. We stand in awe as we contemplate them, and our hearts acknowledge him as King of Kings and Lord of Lords. But while we contemplate all of this glorious majesty our eye falls upon this simple sentence Jesus wept. What do we learn by this? by these two short words. We learn that He had a heart that could be touched by the sorrows and Suffering of our frail humanity: that Sympath~~[[lost: torn edge]]~~

How our hearts thrill with emotions of Love and thankfulness when we think of this blessed truth, that He was in sympathy with the sorrows of frail humanity.

05-079-P02 More than eighteen hundred years have been measured by the revolving Earth since Jesus walked the shores and waves of Galilee, but the influence of His words and life, are still felt. And down through the vista of the coming Ages they will be felt till time shall be no more. And with all the records of His wonderful life this simple truth will descend with the others, Jesus wept.

05-081-P01 The beauty of female culture.

There is nothing more important than the cultivation of our minds there is given to each of us a mind some superior to others but it matters not what degree of intellect we possess it is the common duty of all to improve it If we do not do this what will be the result? why it will be as a field that is not in cultivation and grows up in bryars and weeds.

05-081-P02 The greater mind we possess the more we are expected to accomplish. I think there is more in the cultivation of the mind than there is in the mind itself.

05-081-P03 We must also cultivate the heart kindness of feelings and gentleness of disposition.

05-081-P04 There is also a great importance attached to the cultivation of our manners for what makes a young lady appear to better advantage than gracefulness and politeness of manners all true politeness originates in kindness of heart for if we feel kindly towards anyone then it is no trouble to act kindly to them.

05-084-P01 Parting From Friends

O! how sad we feel when we part from our dear friends! This is the case when we part a short time only, and expect to meet again soon, but how much [[inserted: illegible]] sad it is to part with them when we know that we will meet them no more in this world! Who can discribe the feelings of them who stand around the death bed of a loved father or mother, brother or sister, and hear from their dying lips the last fond words of love they will ever be permitted to utter. And then how agonizing to follow their lifeless bodies, and see them placed in the cold, and silent grave. No one can imagine the feelings caused by such a trial [[deleted: expept]] [[inserted: except]] those who have experienced it. All should be prepared to die, for we know not how soon we may be called upon to leave this beautiful world, and all our dear friends and loved ones. Dec. 6–1883.

Mrs. Douglas and Mrs. Orr.

Ferris, Texas.

Dear Friends:

I send you an advertisement of the land sale which explains itself. During the Term of the Court, Chancellor Burton was sick and died. While he was sick a Circuit Court Judge held his Court and decided the case as to who the land goes to, but seemed very much tangled in the case.

05-087-P02 He decided that 180 Acres of the land that descended to Mrs. Alexander from her father, Jacob Wright, goes to or is inherited by the nephews and nieces of Jacob Wright, and to the children of his deceased nephews and nieces, or their representatives, and as he had about forty nephews and nieces, seventeen of whom are living, and about twenty three dead would make about forty shares into which the estate would be divided. As to the McGlothlin tract of 230 Acres, descended to Mrs. Alexander from her mother, to use his language he said this tract “ascends” to the heirs of Mary Wright from her daughter, the said Rebecca, and the father and mother being cousins, that the heirs of the father and mother of Mary

Wright, related to her in equal degree, or representing those in equal degree, take equal moities of said tract of 235 Acres – if such heirs or those they represent 05-088-P01 do not stand in equal degree to the said Mary Wright then the heirs nearest in blood to the said Mary, or them representing those nearest in blood to her of the whole and half blood will take the whole of said 230 Acres in preference to those of more remote degree.” I appealed from the whole decree to the Supreme Court as also did the McGlothlin claimants of the 230 Acre tract. I am in no way discouraged by the decision of the Court, and feel satisfied that I am correct in my construction of the law that Mrs. Alexander’s first cousins, living at the time of her death, inherit her whole estate from her, and that it does not ascend to the heirs of the Father, or Mother. About the time the case will be finally ended in the Supreme Court, the land money will be ready for distribution.

Very Respectfully,

B. F. Lillard.

Dear Madame

I suppose that you have heard of the death of your Cousin Mrs Alexander daughter of your uncle Jacob Wright. She did not make a will and her real estate descends to her next of kin consisting of her first Cousins now living being 3 of the Goodloe family, three of the Dill, two of the Brasher and six of the Thompson Wright family as I have been informed by Messrs Wright & Dill, I have been employed by a good many of the heirs to represent them in the matter and at their request I write to you, as it is very desirable that I should be the Attorney for all the interested parties and I want authority to act for you, I have written to Mrs Orr Post Office [[deleted: Ennis]] [[inserted: Ferris]]. Please notify her of the fact. We desire [[inserted: to]] act as smoothly as possible, and when I am clothed with the proper authority I will make the demand for the possession of the real estate consisting of 680 Acres of land assessed at $8500.00 but of course land generally brings double the assessment. [[inserted: also for possession of the 640 Acre tract hereafter referred to]] If possession is not given on demand an ejectment suit will become necessary. After possession a bill will have to be filed for partition or for sale for partition, There may-be more real estate besides the 680 Acre tract, probably 300 Acres in Ark.

05-096-P02 Feby 11th 1883 – The above letter was mailed and directed to Ennis and after 28 days returned to me. I now learn that your Post Office is Ferris – Owing to the delay I hope that you will answer me immediately – The 640 Acres sold as above referred to was sold in order to convert the property as I have been informed for $6400.00 rather a depreciated price on one two and three years credit, the two last payments not due, 05-096-P03 The conveyance is defective – I have made a thorough investigation and am satisfied that the sale can be declared by the Courts null and void and the land can be recovered.

Mr Geo. Douglas

Ferris Texas –

Dear Sir – Your letter of March 15th has been recd. I think that you have been under a misapprehension about several things – In the first place you certainly must think that after I recover these lands that I want to handle the money that may arise from the sale – In this you are mistaken I simply wanted to represent you in the litigation (I mean your Mother & Aunt) I never draw the funds of a party unless specially requested to do so – it is too much trouble to keep receipts &c, but then at the same time I want you to understand that I am thank God far ahead in this world's goods, and I don't know of a human being to whom I owe a cent, or whom I ever wronged, You do not understand the law in this State applicable to Attorneys – If an Attorney collects money and fails to pay it over his License [[deleted: was]] [[inserted: is]] taken from him, he is forever prohibited from practicing law, fined a thousand dollars, and imprisoned in jail 12 months, If you remember my first letter to [[deleted: you]] [[inserted: the ladies]] I stated that a letter instructing me to represent them was sufficient, but the Powers of Attorney that I sent was a more formal way and was preferable, and that I did not care about them acknowledging it [[inserted: before a clerk]] [[deleted: illegible]] your first suggested the acknowledgement, showing that

05-099-P01 that all I desired was simply to do the [[lawing?]] and this was at the request of those whom I represent here, This litigation so far has I regret to say exhibited no small amount of bitterness of soul on the part of some persons, who are not even interested in it, except to try to injure me, and to aid Alexander – They have tried to get some of my clients who live at a distance to discharge me and employ Alexander's Lawyer [[inserted: & so far have failed]] – Now if they can succeed in getting all the parties who do not reside here on Alexander's side that are made defendants as I was compelled to place your Mother & Aunt at the time of filing the bills, and then buy out my resident clients of Course the bills would be dismissed – It looks like a blind man ought to see through this – And again Alexander I learn wants to buy the land (which at one time he said was willed to him and now abandoned on account of my persistent efforts against him and others who did not want "to disturb their Cousin Andy or make him mad as they expressed it) and now if, in the bill that I have filed to sell it [[deleted: illegible]] he succeeds in getting most all of the parties on his side, he thinks that he could control to some extent the division of the land into lots, and buy at his own price – Can't you see into this – These are stubborn facts and I have thoroughly posted you in the whole matter, You have the recommendation of Albert Jetton of me as an Attorney, the editorial of the Free Press that I sent to you, also the certificate of Judge Burton the Chancellor before whom the case will be tried, of John Woods Chairman of the County Court have slept on their rights, because the will idea had taken hold of everybody else, and you would not have had any case here to employ any lawyer about; and now in consideration of all these facts could any reasonable person with any gratitude, or sense of justice, accept of the recovery of the property brought about by these services, and then turn their back on me, stab my reputation as a Lawyer and a man of honor, and close a correspondence with me by merely saying “we thank you for the interest you have taken in the matter” and then send a Power of Attorney to some kinsmen to employ (not your friend as I have shown myself to be), but to employ his friend to represent you in Court – At the same time I have referred you to Judge Peter Turney of Winchester Tenn – for information of my standing at the Bar, who has known me ever since the year 1860 and then introduced himself to me by saying that all the old Lawyers said that in a real estate complicated case I had made the finest argument that had been made at that Term [[inserted: of the Supreme Court]]. – But there is one thing I know, and that is, that some persons here have wrote letters to you prejudicial to me, It has been suggested to me that you have been informed that I am intemperate – Back in the past I had prescribed for me

05-102-P01 whisky for neuralgic rheumatism, and like every body else who uses whisky of any temperament, I sometimes used too much, but I never did use it regularly – and now for a great while I have abandoned the prescription, and I do not use any intoxicating drinks, not even berry wine, or cider, as the whole citizens of this Town will testify, and if any man says that I ever neglected my professional engagements on account of whisky he tells that which is absolutely untrue, I do use two cups of Coffee per day, I smoke tobacco and sometimes a little Mullein prescribed by a Methodist Preacher several years ago, but my respect for ladies is too great to allow me to chew tobacco, and this is the extent of my stimulants, Isaac N. Wright, Col. Brashears & Mr Dill & others who reside here are my clients – they have known me from infancy & ought to know what is best, One other party said that she would have nothing to do with it – her and her husband both told me the same, and the latter lately – the other resident party employed a Counsel who came and wanted to join me in the bills, but said he also represented a lot of second Cousins, I told him that his clients interests conflicted, that my bills denied second Cousins having any interests, and that I should comply with the rules of the Bar, that is, when parties originate a suit, and some in interest don't want to employ their Counsel in a partition, they are made defendants & I would do so in this case, as I did not want to practice Law for persons who did not desire me to – he said he had not investigated the rights of the parties – I replied “that I had” And now I do not desire to take a Lawyer on the cases with me and teach him the law and pay him for the privilege by a division of my fees.

Let me hear from you immediately and if you desire further inquiries I will cheerfully answer you – Very Respectfully B. F. Lillard

In addition to what I have said I will state that I have been informed by one of your true friends, that you have been written to, to turn your back on me and to employ a certain other Lawyer here – I will now proceed to give you the origin of that – Mr Alexander sent for the old Gentleman to meet him in Murfreesboro one day this week – he did so – they went to the Office of Mr Alexander's Lawyer, and the three held a long [[deleted: Counsel]] [[inserted: Consultation]], the result of which was, that he went from that Law Office, and consulted with another Lawyer, and then he wrote his letter suggesting to you to employ that Lawyer – Against this Attorney I have not a word to say, nor will I be so uncharitable as to say aught against any brother Lawyer – but no Lawyer is infallible, and a Lawyer is as liable to be imposed [[inserted: on]] as any one else, when the case is stated to him from the opposite side, and that too by an old person whose prejudices can be worked upon – Why did not Mr. Alexander bring into the Consultation your Cousin Albert Jetton whose store is within 75-ft of that Law Office, It seems to me that you ought to be able to see through all this, My bills and work have won the battle unless trickery turns the tide, but I am determined to head off any such warfare, and if any party gives aid and comfort to the enemy to defeat their own rights they shall do so with their eyes open – If Captured by the enemy of this Lawsuit they shall be willing Captures – I further learned that Mr Alexander's Lawyer said that he could not

I have set out to defeat these parties & I intend to do it, by every thing that an honorable man can do, nor do I intend to permit unjust and wrongful impressions to go out against me, I have as many diplomas from as good Universities as this Country affords, my Law Diploma was signed 25 years ago by Judges Green & Caruthers of Cumberland University, the ablest Jurists Tennessee ever had, and I defy any living man to point to a single stain of dishonor on my character – You yourself ought to be able from what I have informed you to understand all these matters – I would suggest that you lay all of my letters before some good Lawyer of your County, and I know what advice he would give you – There is nothing in this letter intended to reflect on your conduct towards me, Everything is written with the kindest of feelings – because I appreciate fully what has acted on your mind –

Mr Geo Douglas
 Ferris Texas –

Dear Sir – Your favor of 17th Inst to hand, I enclose you the letter of M. M. Dill which explains most of the matters about which you made inquiry, I would be as free from bringing a suit against any one to defraud them of their just rights as any person who would decline to receive the rewards of such litigation, The 640 Acre Tract of land was conveyed by deed to D Travis for the Consideration of $6400.00 to be paid in three equal payments Augst 1882, 83, 84 – It was not dated but that is obviated by the date of the acknowledgement before the Clerk July 15–1881, by A. M. Alexander – on the same day a Commission was issued by the Clerk to D. M. McKnight a Justice of the Peace and a half brother of A. M. Alexander to take the Privy Examination of Mrs Alexander which he certifies to the next day, This deed was registered Sept, 1882, and she died Nov, 11 1882,

05-107-P02 Now the legal point in the matter is that the Privy Examination of Rebecca Alexander is a Judicial act of the Justice, and he being of kin by affinity within that degree under our Statute [[deleted: the]] privy examination was null and void and the deed conveyed no title to Travis, Now whether there was

05-108-P01 any agreement between Alexander & wife as to the reinvestment of the proceeds I am not as yet advised – If this deed had been properly executed the sale would have converted the land into personalty and it would be absolutely the husband's money,

05-108-P02 My remark in my letter was simply the conclusion of one of my clients as to the purpose of the Conversion – One of them related to me that he was at Mr A's house on one occasion when Mr A. argued the propriety of selling out and purchasing property in Town and appealed to him for approval and he did not seem to like his answer or rather seemed displeased at it, which was against Town property &c, As to fees and the costs we are not allowed as in your State to take Contingent fees, it would be champertous and a suit so taken by an Attorney would be dismissed, but of course Lawyers do not charge so high where there is no recovery – we look to amount involved &c, I can say this much that we will have no Controversy about the fees, and as Mr. Dill's letter indicates we may avoid litigation, and simply have partition bills, and if it becomes necessary to litigate about the 640 Acre Tract of land I will notify you of all the particulars and await your advice before using the ladies names as Complainants – The parties are very much scattered, and I desire to commence proceedings in time for next Court and hope you will answer me immediately,
Very Respectfully B. F. Lillard.

05-115-P01 P. S. J. N. Spence the soninlaw of Mrs Bivins informed me that Mr A. M. Alexander about two weeks ago said that if they found no will that he did not want any lawsuit and that he would give up the lands, It is reasonable to suppose that a will conveying such a large estate and disposing of it would not be hid way in a corner – None has as yet been found and you may rest assured that none will be produced,

05-115-P02 Now as to my opinion about the recovery of the 640 Acre Tract of land – I have fully investigated the question and I am fully satisfied that the deed can be declared null and void, but whether the parties will seek to do this is a subject for their own consideration, it is my duty as a Lawyer to point out the rights and it is the clients privilege to exercise it, Mr Alexander is rich outside of this – If he was needy and to take from him the benefits of this 640 Acre tract of land would leave him poor I think the moral question would enter and I am free to confess that I could not very zealously prosecute a suit to recover it – I do not think any such considerations apply – We do not know what induced her to join in the deed, but we do know that for years she had refused to sell it, we further are informed that she said that her Father on his death bed told her that he made no will, and asked her to promise the same and that she said that she had so promised and that she did not want Mr Alexander's kin to have her property – So the law of the land was her will – If she had desired it she could have determined it otherwise, I do not even suppose that she knew her personal estate would go to her husband, and the taking of her Privy Examina

Jetton & Mr Dill satisfies you as to that, and then you agree that all ought to have the same Attorney. 05-123-P02 George & Lizzie, your letters were duly and gladly rec, for I am ever anxious to hear from home, or Brushy and its vicinity — I've nothing very interesting to offer at present. The weather is extremely hot and dry in this section since the ((flood)) as I term it and in consequence a great deal of sickness below this Mostly Chills and fever

05-123-P03 I was riding, three days last week trying to rent Me a place nearer Austin But failed All occupied for another Year. and the people not all But a great many sick for the season

05-123-P04 I have become a little dissatisfyed with the Mountains Oweing to the roughness of the road and distance from Austin I was fully determined to move to Arkansas this fall. But I must Confess that the grief and tears of a good Old motherinlaw is a preventative, at least as long as She lives and possibly She may out live Me.

I think that is enough to raise a mans ambition above rotten Corn mark — ((what you say)) not knowing exactly where I will get to mail this I will close for the present.

Editorial note. Continuation of 05-145 with an overlapping repeat at the top. Several signatures and acknowledgment text are in deep shadow. The acknowledgments are more fully visible on 05-147–149; they are transcribed from those scans rather than silently filling this image’s gaps. Image review September 2026. 05-146-P01: Survey description continues from 05-145-P03. The same lines beginning 18 varas an Elm recur on both scans. The preceding image exposes the survey text above that point, including the cedar bearing. Retain the cropped-top marker and link the earlier scan; this does not count as newly reading the same survey twice. 05-146-P03: 2nd, verified on 05-147-P01. The shaded date on scan 146 is consistent with 2nd; scan 147 exposes the same dated line and clearly reads 2nd. Record the witness explicitly rather than claiming all three characters are clear in the shaded scan. 05-146-P03: Jany, verified on 05-147-P01. The date line, seal and A. O. Walker signature align across the scans. The clearer copy shows the abbreviation Jany. Preserve that abbreviation in a supplied witness note, not the expanded January. 05-146-P04: Remainder of Mary Roper’s acknowledgment is visible on 05-147-P02. The printed and inserted handwritten names align exactly. The clearer scan exposes the remainder beginning been examined by me privily and apart from her husband and its dated signature. The shadow/crop marker remains on scan 146, with a reference to the complete acknowledgment.

Editorial note. The Alice E. McCrary acknowledgment repeats 05-147. Underlying handwritten text is shown without the overlying sheets on 05-149. Image review September 2026. 05-148-P03: Covered opening appears on 05-149-P02. The lower exposed words and their line breaks match the same underlying sheet shown fully in 05-149. Keep the obstruction marker and link that witness; this duplicates the finding for 05-147-U002. 05-148-P03: and Seal this Fourth, verified on 05-149-P03. The obscured closing aligns with the uncovered scan. Brightening scan 148 does not independently recover every letter; scan 149 visibly supplies and Seal this Fourth. 05-148-P03: Closing signature and commission note continue on 05-149-P03. The complete underlying sheet carries the date, notary's signature, office and commission-expiry note. Preserve uncertainties in those elements, including the given name and expiry reading, rather than filling the cropped area with confident guesses.
